The Power of Pattern

At Cosatto, we've always believed in the power of pattern to engage your baby and promote happiness.

Cosatto prams and pushchairs put your baby at the heart of visual systems. Bold, bright and carefully placed, our baby-friendly characters and patterns aim to harness your baby's early sensory skills.

Meeting of Minds

We're serious about happy babies, that's why we've teamed up with one of the UK's leading Baby Labs – testing new patterns and products to amp up their positive impact even more. Together we're harnessing baby science to drive the development of products that go even further to bring the happy to your baby. The possibilities are endless.

From symbols and characters that babies love, to your toddler's fave colours and wild stories – we've developed our famous pattern around them.

The pattern's the thing. Find theirs.

“Babies’ colour vision develops rapidly over the first couple of months of life.”

From a small start...

Once upon a time, a lad brought up in a Bolton nursery store had seen one too many sodden little mites in dull pushchairs.

Glancing briefly at the light bulb that had mysteriously materialised over his head, he became inspired.

He donned a patterned shirt, bought a sewing machine and invented the framed pushchair raincover...

“Dream big little dogs.”

...to the nation's heart.

2.6 million happy babies later, Andrew Kluge and his team continue to save the world from boring baby stuff. One happy baby at a time. We trace it all back to that shirt.

This award-winning nursery brand salutes you. The parents, world-shakers, homemakers. Serious about happy babies? You've come to the right place.
